

READING ASSIGNMENTS:

For next week: David Marshall LANG and Christopher J. WALKER,
The Armenians. London: Minority Rights Group, 1977.
Since we have run out of money, copies will be available in the Soc.Lab and on reserve in the Norris Library.

M. LEWIN, "Society and the Stalinist state in the period of the Five Year Plans." Social History, No.2 (1976) 139-175.
This paper has already been distributed.

Norman COHN, Europe's Inner Demons. NY: New American Library, 1975.
While this reading was in preparation for Professor Cohn's visit, it is mentioned here as relevant to the course and to your second paper.

Kate L. TURABIAN, A manual for writers of term papers, theses, and DISSERTATIONS. Chicago: U.of Chicago Press, 1973 (4th Ed.)
This would make a good addition to your permanent library.
You should at least consult it if you have any problems and/or questions concerning format, footnotes, etc. for your paper.

Hannah ARENDT, The Origins of Totalitarianism. NY: Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, 1973 (1st Ed. 1951) You should read the whole book, of course. But we suggest that you start with:
Chapter 9 "The decline of the nation state and the end of the rights of man." which is the last chapter of Part Two.
Part Three "Totalitarianism." read all of this. Then read the rest of the book.

For those of you who would like to explore some of the psychological and psychiatric interpretations of genocide, here are a few items that you may want to look at:

Nevitt SANFORD, Craig COMSTOCK and Associates, Sanctions for Evil;
sources of social destructiveness. San Francisco: Jossey-Bass, 1973. A very varied collection of papers, many of which are influenced by the events in Viet-Nam.

Anthony STORR, Human Destructiveness. London: Chatto-Heinemann, 1972.

Henry V. DICKS, Licensed Mass Murder. a social-psychological study of some SS killers. NY: Basic Books, 1972.

SECOND TERM PAPER:

It is getting close to the end! We would like to make sure that you will do well. It is also becoming quite clear that most of you will not have a draft ready by the deadline for our comments.
Therefore, we would like to encourage you to show us such parts of the paper that you have ready. Or, you may want to come and discuss with us the content of your paper. We shall make every effort to assist you. However, there will be no extension of the deadline for handing in the finished paper. So, please let us see something of your work, or come and talk to us, while there is still time to incorporate changes in your final paper.
